CHILDRENS' DAY CELEBRATION

Being a child and having a carefree childhood is the purest thing in the world. To let our student-teachers be just children on childrens' day the teacher educators planned the celebration days before and on 13th November the student teachers were completely taken by surprise. The student-teachers enjoyed themselves with the refreshments provided, followed by some interesting games like antakshari and the photo caption.

MUHARRAM

Muharram, is a sacred occasion observed by the Muslims. Unlike any other festival, Muharram is not a joyful festival or colourful celebration. It is actually a mourning period for the Muslims so as to remember the death of Imam Hussain, the grandson of Prophet Mohammed who was killed in the battle of Karbala.

The student-teacher narrated the story and explained the reason why it is mourning for the Muslims.

ALUMNI MEET

The Alumni meet is very important as it gives everyone the opportunity to meet with many of the graduates after a long time. The alumni are able to meet each other, their former teachers and other staff. It also enables the alumni to familiarize themselves with the developments at the alma mater.

Thus, the Alumni meet of PHCER was held on 16th November 2013. More than the teacher-educators it was the alumni who were waiting for the day when they could come back and revisit their B.Ed days. Though the timing for the meet was kept from 12 pm the alumni started dropping from the morning itself. In the afternoon all the students, the current batch and the previous batch were treated to scrumptious lunch followed by the felicitation of the toppers of 2012-13 batch by our principal madam.

A small workshop was also organized for the alumni by the current batch of student-teachers, which was very creative and informative.

All the students truly enjoyed every moment and the celebration did not end till the music was put on and all the students danced to the tunes of the music.

GURU NANAK JAYANTI

The birthday of the first Sikh guru is celebrated as Guru Nanak Jayanti in India and worldwide where Sikhs reside with immense fervor and gaiety. One of the student-teacher explained the way they celebrate Guru Nanak Jayanti followed by the Sikh prayer song.

UNIVERSITY EXAM

The university exam for the first semester began from 17th December to 21st December 2013.

ONE TO ONE MENTORING

One to one mentoring has been one of the greatest strengths of PHCER. It helps in solving problems and develops one to one interaction. Thus, one to one mentoring sessions were held for the students in order to prepare them for the university exams. The session helped to boost the confidence of the student-teachers and they felt more confident to face the university exam.
